Letter from Vanessa

Dear Friends

Well, isn't it lovely to finally see the sunshine?! It was beautifully hopeful in St Mark's room today, with the sun shining through the window – and even more sunshine inside from the children and their carers who came for our first St Mark's Minnows! It was such a joy to see St Mark's room full, and as you will see, Phil, our churchwarden, had a fabulous time playing with the trains!

It does give us hope when the sun begins to shine after a long winter – literally or metaphorically! Lent is fast approaching, and this year, we are following the Church of England's Lent course, Living Hope. In turbulent times, hope is hard to find, and this course gives us the opportunity to find something deeper and richer than mere optimism. Hope in God is possible even in the disappointment of daily setbacks or deeper hurts, and in this course, we can explore how to find hope in times of frustration and how to notice signs of hope around us.

We have opportunities across the Benefice to join in with the Lent course – do send me an email if you want to chat about it!

My prayer for all of us this Lent is that we will see signs of hope all around us – whether that's in the daffodils blooming, or the sound of children playing.

Vanessa

Friends of Chapel Wood by Graham Roads

Chapel Wood is the area of natural woodland that surrounds St. Mark's Church, by the A3090 and Chapel Hill. It was purchased many years ago by the then parish council to provide Ampfield parishioners with a community woodland. The wood has a network of marked footpaths, a small stream, a pond with a dipping platform and open areas.

The Friends of Chapel Wood is a brilliant team of volunteers that care for the wood. Their role is twofold. They act as a sort of referee amongst the plant species. Without their help, the wood would eventually be taken over by a few dominant plant species, footpaths would become overgrown, and the variety of wildlife would diminish.

The Friends also help to develop the wood's infrastructure. The current project is the slope to the west of St. Mark's Church. Once covered by rhododendron and brambles, the slope is slowly being cleared. A rustic path has been built to link the church with the existing footpath network and the area is being planted with wild woodland flowers and bulbs.

The plan is to introduce smaller woodland trees and shrubs, such as blackthorn, hazel, crab apple and some wild roses. Each of these has been selected because they provide flowers for pollinating insects and fruit for birds. The slope also gets some sun and is an ideal spot to place a couple of benches to provide an area of contemplation.

If you fancy the idea of joining some like-minded neighbours for a few hours once a month, just turn up in the St. Mark's car park at 09:45 on the second Saturday of every month. The Friends are a good bunch. Tools are provided. It is a good way to have a bit of fun and help our community at the same time!

Building works at All Saints and 'thank you Pam'

We like a chance to share cake at All Saints and on Sunday 23rd Feb, we were able to both celebrate the completion of some significant building works and say 'thank you' to Pam, who's been our treasurer for an incredible forty years.

Our recent building works have achieved a lot. There's a new door that provides level access to our accessible toilet, which improves our inclusivity; a new meeting room and kitchen, giving us more flexible space to use; and new windows, making the church more energy efficient.

A big 'thank you' to Councillor Alan Dowden for formally opening our new meeting room and kitchen. Alan is pictured above on the brink of cutting the ribbon! Alan's been a supporter of the church and our work in the community for a long time, so we were delighted that he could join this celebration.

The celebration also gave Vanessa a chance to ambush Pam, who has recently stepped down after an incredible forty years as our treasurer. A massive 'thank you' to Pam, for all her work keeping track of the parish finances over four decades. And thank you to James Pitkin, our Rural Dean and one-time curate at All Saints for joining us in wishing Pam well.

The Charity Raffle in the Market on December 7th 2024

A huge thank you to everyone who came along and enjoyed the December Market and supported the annual Christmas Raffle in aid of charity. For many years the proceeds of the raffle have been sent to the Pancreatic Cancer Research Fund in memory of my late husband Martin and Liz Easterbrook, The founder, Maggie Blanks set up the charity when her husband died, I spoke to her many times and she kept me informed of the latest research that was enabled by their many supporters and their generous donations. Maggie decided to step down at the end of 2024 and the charity closed so I sent our donation instead to Pancreatic Cancer UK and they were very grateful indeed for £140 raised during the December Market thanks to everyone's generosity and kindness.

BADDESLEY DIVISION COUNTY COUNCILLORS ANNUAL REPORT

Dear Ampfield Residents,

I was first elected to the County Council in a By-Election on the 2nd January 1992 and have served the Baddesley Division for 33 years. I have now though, decided not to stand for another election.

Local Government is undergoing significant change through the devolution proposals. This will entail Hampshire having combined unitary authorities; an elected Mayor; and in due course the dissolving of the County & District and Borough Councils. However, parish & town councils will remain. It may be a few years before this is finalised. Until the changes are completed, I will continue to serve the Baddesley Division with the interest of my constituents as my focus.

A huge increase in those requiring Adult Social Care and Children's Special Educational Needs have created overwhelming pressure on the financial position of the County Council. Presently 75% of the whole Revenue budget goes to try to cover these services. The Chief Financial Officer at the County Council has reported that without any further government funding the remaining reserves are insufficient to sign off a balanced budget for the year 2026/27 and that will result in the County Council sending a Section 114 notice to Central Government.

Until central government addresses the Social Care issue to protect our vulnerable adults and children any new Combine Authority will have the same difficulties. I have always argued that until you finance Social Care adequately, the NHS will never properly recover.

The Council Tax for 2025/26 will be £1609.83p for a Band D an increase of just under 5% and 2% of this will be allocated to Social Care. The administration at the County Council sought a 15% rise but this was rejected by Central Government. County Councillors Community Grants. I was pleased to be able to grant £1000 towards the cost of repairing the roof of St Marks Church after the despicable theft of the lead from the church's roof. Wessex Cancer Trust also gained a large grant.

Alan

Update – gas works in Flexford Close, Eastleigh SO53 6RY

We're writing to provide an update on the ongoing gas works and water ingress within our pipe network in Flexford Close in Eastleigh.

Our engineers are waiting for Clancy to complete repairs to the water main located in Baddlesley Road before we can safely complete further investigations and necessary repairs. In the meantime, our engineers will be closely monitoring the status on site.

Once Clancy are complete, we will be able to start our investigations and repairs. This will involve excavations and potential traffic management on the road. At this stage, we don't know what traffic management will be required or how long the work will take to complete.

For further information and progress updates on these works, please visit our website at <https://www.sgn.co.uk/our-gas-works/roadworks-your-area>

MARCH 1979

ST. MARK'S "MOTHERS UNION"

Every month or so we meet for our afternoon gatherings which always are happy times of fellowship and interest. Therefore our numbers steadily increase, as well as visits to us by old members who have left our Ampfield Parish. At our last meeting on Thursday, February 8th we welcomed two new members, delightful young wives and mothers, and we do so enjoy our mixed ages "togetherness".

Our Treasurer, Mrs. Rita Bardell, kindly welcomed us to her home, Windy Willows, near The Potters Heron, for a New Year meeting. The Vicar as usual opened the service and afterwards spoke to us about "The Body of Christ". He then invited questions, in which we all joined and helped by his answers. Later the buffet tea party made it easy for all of us to circulate and talk with each other, while younger members brought around delicious home made cakes, etc., any remaining were put up for purchasing and made a good sum to put with the monthly collection to help the many countries MU members. Many of the mothers of overseas families are often in need of family food and clothes, their church also needs support and money to buy Bibles and Hymn books for their Sunday Schools and crowded church services. With their joyful singing and real interested caring for our Country by prayers where their loved Mothers Union first started by God's guidance.

No MU meeting during March, as several committee members will be in other countries, including our secretary, who is going to Jerusalem, where her daughter Sara is now nursing at the very large Jerusalem Hospital, and our prayers surely will be for her often.

So please note the date of our Spring Gathering; here at "Yew Tree Cottage" Wednesday, April 25th at 2.35 p.m. When cold winds and snow are over! and flowers and birds and warm sunshine stir our hearts and minds with the Easter Resurrection message to us from Our Saviour whose coming brings deep joy to countless families, as to ours and yours.

As ever, Marjorie Waglan

ENTERPRISE WORKS

Dear Friends,

This morning a picture postcard of Gethsemane arrived from Sara Rose, now nursing for a few months in Jerusalem. This reminds me that March 25th is Mothers Day. For Jerusalem with all her scandals is the mother of us all. Certainly of the Church and so of our Western civilisation, with all its faults. The enterprising commercial world has changed Mothering Sunday into Mothers Day. The profitable result is that never before have so many children spent so much time and money showing love to their mothers. And never before have so many Christians been involved in caring for their churches and the churches so cared for. So thank you, Sara! Your mother church here is proud of your enterprise and your Christian caring. For the rest of us here on March 25th there is the Family Service at 9.45 for prayer and praise and posies.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Three days later on Wednesday, March 28th there is the Annual Church Meeting in the W.I. Hall at 7.30 p.m. Last year 29 were present. But there are 130 of you on the Electoral Roll of the Church, and 220 of you take this under-priced magazine. The meeting is all over by 9, and you get free refreshments to enable you to bear it. We will try to finish the elections and accounts in the first half and have the second half to meet and talk. Regretfully, it is the only day in the whole 365 days of the year that we meet as the church, and not just as occasional patrons of Matins, Evensong or Family Services. So do please come! This is not just a little huddle for members of the PCC. It is for all of you who care for the church. Not just for the building, but for making our faith and fellowship more relevant and inspiring to ourselves, our families and to the world about us.

Finally, it is now Lent, and so time for exercising some self-denial. Useful and difficult at all times. So if you don't like meetings, here is an obvious opportunity to make yourself miserable in a good cause. It will do you good and make you feel better, even possibly self-righteous, and so more in need of God than ever!

Yours in Christ,

George Slater

Thought for the Month

What can Paddington Bear teach us?

We have all grown up knowing who Paddington Bear is, but he really shot to fame, or came to life as it were, when he appeared in the first animated film. Who hasn't felt the pull of his warmth and humour as the young Paddington, who named himself after a railway station, brings chaos and then joy to everyone he meets? It's a story that reminds us of the beauty of welcoming an outsider, as the Brown family did, of letting down the drawbridge, and experiencing an arrival that cannot fail but to transform us all. Paddington was an alien; indeed, he was an economic migrant. He came to London to better himself, his Aunt Lucy made him stowaway on boat in order to reach this country. A lot different to how many migrants arrive today on flimsy hardly seaworthy vessels. Sadly, our country doesn't always have the best track record of welcoming outsiders and letting down the drawbridge. With more and more people having to leave their home countries - for a whole variety of reasons - and displaced people looking to lay down roots elsewhere, the refugee crisis is still as heart-wrenching as ever. Therefore, Paddington's story feels remarkably twenty-first century.

Paddington Bear was created by author Michael Bond in 1958 after he was inspired by the plight of refugee children arriving in the UK during World War 11 and children being evacuated away from the bombing to the countryside. Hence the fact that Paddington wears a luggage label saying 'please look after this bear. Thank you' her!

Since then this little bear has endeared himself to adults as well as children and he even appeared with the late Queen during her Platinum Jubilee and shared his love of marmalade sandwiches with And now across the country there are Paddington Bear benches which have drawn people together as they sit often talking to complete strangers.

A Peruvian bear who finds a home with the Brown family and whilst they get a little exasperated with him, at the same time have many adventures. This could be a reminder to care for strangers and embrace the adventures God has in store and to see the lighter side of life!

A place to enjoy, to feel safe and to make friends.

by Paul Oliver

Few people attend church these days as most people are aware but perhaps are not aware of how the church can be used, or what a great facility it can bring to local life, or indeed to those a little further afield. I am fortunate to live in sight and sound of St Marks, to walk through Chapel Wood and enjoy the architecture of the church, its surroundings and the wildlife which lives within it. Not the churchgoers, although I know one or two who can be a little wild at times. There may be the odd bat, owl or dormouse who pay their respects within the church and that's fine. The church is open to all.

My walks through Chapel Wood, especially in the early morning when deer and other creatures have yet to withdraw to their daytime refuge, are something I cherish. This prompted me to give something back, nothing onerous or significant enough for me to feel obligated, just to join in a few things and lend a hand. This led me to helping the Friends of Chapel Wood for a couple of hours on some months, to enjoy quizzes and wine tastings in the St Mark's Room and to make friends. Helping out at the Church Fete probably brought me more enjoyment than any assistance I gave. You often get back more than you put in, it's that sort of place.

Not once have my beliefs been sought nor any attempt made to encourage me to attend church services. I have never encountered any sense of attempted coercion. All I have ever found is kindness, friendship and acceptance. That is something we all wish and I would encourage others to enjoy the pleasures that have come my way.

St Mark's Room is available at modest cost for meetings, social gatherings, private parties, all similar events and to people of any faith or none. There are toilets, catering and parking facilities. Chapel Wood has several woodland paths, grassed areas, sunny glades, a pond and seating areas. Its also where you will find the Church Fete and a quiet place for a picnic. When I look across from my home, watch people pass by towards Ampfield woods and I see the church alone and empty, it saddens me a little. It would be a delight to see more people enjoying the facilities of what is on offer, including friendliness and a place to feel safe and welcome. Please use it.
